

ANESIANI NIKA

Web Developer

ABOUT ME

I'm an 18-year-old web developer. I learned programming by myself, starting with Python. After four months, I delved into HTML, CSS, and JavaScript and then expanded my skills with ReactJS. Now, I have almost four years of experience in front-end development. I can create fully responsive websites with performance optimization and cool animations. I'm currently learning back-end development with Python Django (Django Rest Framework). I am dedicated to continuously growing my knowledge and skills.
